

Health and Safety Policy (Managing Directors Short Policy)

Devon & Cornwall DC Power Limited is committed to providing safe and healthy working conditions for the prevention of work-related injury and ill health through ensuring the health, safety and welfare of its employees and all others who may be affected by its operations.

In pursuit of this, the Directors, Managers, and others in supervisory roles commit to the fulfilment of the company's legal requirements and take all reasonably practicable measures to ensure compliance with these and commit to eliminate hazards and reduce occupational health & safety risks wherever possible.

The company recognises good health & safety practices and commits to and maintains a sound process for the consultation and participation of its workers to aid in the continual improvement of its occupational health & safety management system.

The Managing Director assumes overall responsibility for all company health, safety, and welfare matters.

This includes setting OH&S objectives to monitor and improve staff and company health & safety practices, the review and upkeep of policies and procedures, and maintenance of adequate standards of communication, awareness, competence, and performance at all levels throughout the company.

The Directors additionally assume responsibility for the engagement of any professional health and safety support necessary to maintain awareness and competence levels and provide independent assurance of statutory compliance and acceptable performance.

Managers and supervisory staff are responsible for ensuring all personnel employed by the company are at the earliest stage of their engagement, made fully aware of their health and safety responsibilities to themselves, the company and others, and their expected total co-operation in the implementation of any procedures, rules and instructions emanating from this policy.

The Company has a continual routine of random audits which may take place on any processes and persons at any time.
